In most agencies interview and interrogation training goes to detectives while patrol officers are left to figure things out on their own when it comes to effectively interviewing people. This is unfortunate because a major part of the patrol officers responsibilities includes gathering and assessing information from people on a daily basis. To address the void, this training was designed for patrol officers as well as new detectives to provide them with knowledge and skills relating to conducting effective interviews & interrogations, detecting deception, improving witness memory and statement analysis techniques.

Instructor: Wesley Clark, President of LIES Linguistic Interrogation Expert Services and retired Detective Sergeant Connecticut State Police Major Crime Squad and POST certified instructor.
